The 2016

Central School Auction

Greetings...

And welcome to “A Night in Black & White” – Central School’s Bi-Annual Goods & Services Auction!

We are very excited about tonight’s festivities and feel so privileged that the Central School Community has once again pulled together to support our school and enjoy a night of fun!!

A tremendous thank-you to our auction committee and volunteers, our class parents, our teachers and administrators, and our parents, all of whom have made this event possible through their time, planning, organization, financial support, and generous donations of items and experiences.

Thanks to all of you for attending tonight! The proceeds of this important evening will be used to benefit the education of our children. Your generosity will enable the Home & School Association to provide assemblies, field trips, technology upgrades, books, new playground equipment, and much more to Central School students.

Please have a wonderful evening, as you eat, drink, celebrate and bid...

With sincere thanks,

Maria Dolan, Auction Chair

& 2016 Auction Committee

Auction Procedures

Live Auction Procedures

To enter a bid, the bidder must hold up his or her catalog with the bidding number printed on the back.

The auctioneers will acknowledge the highest bidder. The auctioneers retain the right to accept or reject any opening bid or subsequent raise if it is not commensurate with the value of the item offered, the minimum bid or the incremental bid.

Unless otherwise indicated, all LIVE items that are dinners or parties with multiple participants are being sold as a package. If a group or individual want to “go in” on or split the cost of an item – please plan your bidding in advance and designate one person to bid for and pay for the package.

Introducing Our Auctioneers:

Tim Casper

Tim Casper moved to our wonderful town from Manhattan in 2003. He is raising four children in Glen Rock with his wife Jennifer Casper. Tim currently has his twins, Maggie and Will, in the 3rd grade at Central School. Tim was born and raised in Milwaukee, Wisconsin and is always glad to discuss all things Wisconsin sports. Go Packers!

Luis Serrano

This 5-year Glen Rock resident, father of 3 Central School children, fancies himself pretty lucky to have found the best damn woman money can't buy. His hobbies include coming up with savory but unrealistic breakfast, lunch and dinner requests for the great chef Meiganne. You can usually find Luis running up and down some soccer field reliving his passion for the sport.

Black & White

~ Central School 2016 Bi-Annual Live and Silent Auction Event ~

Silent Auction Procedures

Next to each silent auction item is a bid sheet which identifies the item by number and denotes the minimum and incremental bid. To bid on an item, write your bidding number (on the back of this program) and the amount you bid on the first available line.

USE ONLY THE BIDDING NUMBER ASSIGNED TO YOU!

Bids less than the "Minimum Bid" will not be accepted.

The highest bid at closing time will be circled by the auction official and constitutes the winning bid.

If you are a winner, the amount you bid will appear on your final tally at the checkout desk at the end of the evening. If you must leave early, please see a cashier to pick up your items.

If you're a winner!

If you are a winner, please come with your catalog to the cashier for checkout. All items must be paid for and removed from the premises by close of the evening.

No exchanges or refunds on auction items are permitted. Please read specifications carefully. All items are sold as is. All auction items must be redeemed by September 30, 2016, unless otherwise indicated. Payment will be accepted in the form of cash and checks payable to "Central School H.S.A.". Credit Cards will also be accepted.

Should you have any questions, please call HSA Co-President Allison Cassin at 201-857-2299.

The auction committee extends its sincerest thanks to everyone who donated goods and services or made monetary donations to this auction.

This could not have taken place without the tireless efforts of all the Central School parents who gave their time and energy to making this auction a success!
