Bollywood (n)
Bollywood is the sobriquet for India's Hindi language film industry, based in the city of Mumbai (formerly Bombay), Maharashtra.[3] It is more formally referred to as Hindi cinema.[4] The term "Bollywood" is often used by non-Indians as a synecdoche to refer to the whole of Indian cinema; however, Bollywood proper is only a part of the larger Indian film industry, which includes other production centres producing films in many other Indian languages.[5][6]
